171 STUDENTS WIN WAY ONTO DEAN'S LIST

Paul Morin, Neil Devlin Killed In Tragic Crash

PAUL MORIN

NEIL J. DEVLIN

L. Paul Morin, a junior, and Neil J. Devlin, sophomore, were killed last weekend in a tragic auto crash near Babylon, N.Y.

Jerry Crowley, junior, suffered a fractured skull and Devlin's sister Betty was also seriously injured.

Morin died a short time after the crash, Devlin, the driver of the car, was in a coma for a day, but both students received the last rites.

Morin was a weekend guest at the Crowley home in Babylon, N.Y. He had gone to New York to make arrangements to enter New York University Law School. Devlin lived in nearby Lindenhurst.

Neil Devlin and Paul Morin were outstanding students. Devlin transferred this September after a freshman year at Yale. A Business Administration student, Devlin made the Dean's List for the first semester.

Paul Morin was one of the most active members of the student body. He was a member of the Outing Club, Debating Club, Dramatic Club, French Club and Radio Workshop. In addition he was known throughout the East as one of the section's best speed skaters.

A Political Science major, Morin was a hard working student. His ambition was to be a lawyer but he often said that he would rather quit than become an unethical lawyer. He wasn't the quitting kind.

The whole school participated in ceremonies in honor of the two students. Tuesday morning two Masses in the chapel were attended by nearly every student.

Morin's funeral Mass Wednesday in St. Joseph's Church in Burlington was celebrated by the Very Reverend Daniel P. Lyons, president of St. Michael's. It was attended by the Junior Class. The Political Science Class of which Morin was a member also attended. Six juniors served as pallbearers.

The Sophomore Class contributed to have flowers and a spiritual bouquet sent to Devlin's home. Immediately after Mass Wednesday, Fr. Lyons flew to Lindenhurst for Devlin's funeral. Fr. Sullivan, Sophomore Class moderator and several class officers also attended the funeral Thursday.

Dialogue Mass Proposed For Lent

by BILL LIBERATOR

The much discussed Dialogue Mass may soon be celebrated at St. Michael's. This was revealed this week with the announcements of the devotions for Lent. Also announced this week were the new hours for the morning Masses and evening Devotions.

For the convenience of the off-campus students during Lent an extra Mass will be sung at the College Chapel daily at 8:00 A.M.

Fr. Poirier has also scheduled Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament on Tuesday at 5:45 and Stations of the Cross on Friday at the same hour.

At the Sodality meeting last week an innovation for the Lenten Season was proposed and acted upon. This innovation is the daily singing of a Dialogue Mass at 7:00.

Now that the Administration has wholeheartedly approved of the "Sung Mass," all that remains is the Bishop's endorsement before the Dialogue Mass becomes a reality.

Undoubtedly, this Mass, symbolizing the congregation's active participation in the Sacrifice, is one of the most beautiful ceremonies in the

Novice Debate On World Government

Caught between classes, Tim Evatt, chairman of novice debate.

Timothy Evatt chosen by the Newman Debating Society as chairman of the Second Annual Novice Debating Tournament, which is to be held on March 12, is working with a committee of six other club members in making out the plans and schedules in order to make the tournament a success.

The tournament this year is to be much larger than the one held last year. The colleges participating in the tournament a year ago were: Dartmouth, University of Vermont and St. Michael's. Instead of only three colleges, the tournament this year hopes to increase to six colleges, with the addition of Middlebury, Champlain and Norwich.

The topic for debate will be: Resolved: "That a Federal World Government Should Be Established." Any student from St. Michael's is allowed to participate in this tournament provided that he is a freshman or upper classman who has not debated in any inter-collegiate debates.

During the past week the teams which will represent St. Michael's have been having practice debates between themselves in order to prepare themselves for the tournament. Those likely to

17 Percent Get Honors For High First Half Marks

Seventeen percent of the student body did sufficiently outstanding work during the first semester to make the dean's list according to Rev. Gerald E. Dupont S.S.E., Academic Dean. Fr. Dupont reported that 171 students had maintained an average of 85 percent or better during the first half year.

Mission Crusade Concert

A piano concert presented under the auspices of the Mission Crusade will be held Sunday, April 3rd, at the St. Michael's Playhouse.

Fr. Maurice Boucher, moderator of the Mission Crusade, announced that he had secured Mr. Richard Ziter of North Adams as guest pianist.

Mr. Ziter is a graduate of The Eastman School of Music and has given many concerts throughout New England. He has a very fine reputation as a concert pianist.

Week-End Success Despite BC Loss

On Saturday morning Feb. 26, a happy band of approximately 150 Michaelmen left the college campus via busses enroute to Boston.

Since a large number had left in the preceding days via the thumb mode of travel, some 500 Mikemen swarmed on the Arena Saturday night in confident anticipation of witnessing the plucking of the Boston College Eagles.

Due to the Eagles refusal to cooperate, the Knights were disappointed in their hopes, however, the majority of the Michaelmen went through with their victory celebrations as planned.

"Sarge" Salmon, a very well known St. Michael's alumnus now attending Boston College Law School, conducted his own social gathering at the Hotel Statler, with many of the Michaelmen dropping in sporadically throughout the evening to pay their respects.

On Sunday morning the Michaelmen attended Mass at various churches throughout Boston, and in the afternoon most of the men made a thorough tour of the "Bean City."

At six o'clock it was "pack-up and go," and the Mikemen once again boarded the busses, a little weary perhaps but with few regrets, to begin the journey back to the college.

One of the most noteworthy aspects of the weekend, as remarked by the Boston newspapers, was the fine turn-out of Michaelmen and the exemplary spirit which they displayed at all times during the basketball game.

DON'T WEAR ORANGE AT FROSH 'FLING'

There'll be Leprechauns all about and shamrocks blossoming from every wee cranny on March 17 when the freshman class stages its annual St. Patrick's Day dance.

This year the dance will be known as the "Dublin Castle Fling," instead of "Shamrock Shuffle," the title a year ago.

Frosh President Tom Shields, general chairman of the "Fling," has announced that tickets for the affair, the only dance during Lent, will be available early next week. There will be ticket chairmen in every hall.

The dance will mark the first appearance on campus of the "Arabian Knights" the recently organized student orchestra.

Although the dean's list has increased to a high of 171 this is a result of the expansion which has upped the enrollment to over 1000 students. The actual percentage of dean's list students has decreased from the previous semester's 23 percent or 5 to 1 ratio to 17 percent for this past half year.

Eight undergraduates and 1 graduate student top the list with an average of 95 percent.

The graduate student is Armando Citarella, instructor in Modern Languages and the Classics last semester, and now headed for a honeymoon.

The undergraduates are George T. Brown, Portland, Ore.; John F. Cronin, Beverly, Mass.; Ramon De Jesus, Malabon, Rizal, P.I.; Floro Frulla, Pawlet, Vt.; Richard Lareau, Essex Junction, Vt.; Marcel LeBlanc, Winoski, Vt.; David Mauzerall, Sanford, Me.; and Thomas Sheehan, Springfield, Mass.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

Of late the members of the Student Activities Council have become aware of the fact that the student body is absolutely in the dark as to what the S.A.C. is, what we are doing, and what our ultimate goal is. Possibly the student body is justified in being indignant over the lack of publicity as far as the S.A.C. is concerned but feel assured that in the future, complete, prudent coverage will be given to all meetings of the S.A.C.

For all those who are not acquainted with the facts up to the present I shall give a brief summary of when, why, and by whom the S.A.C. was instituted.

In 1947, the administration of St. Michael's College realizing that no longer could direct communication be made with each and every one of its 700 odd students, decided that a representative group of students be chosen by the student body. The main purposes of this group were to be:

1. To bring before the Administration serious problems affecting the common good of all the students.

2. To supervise all activities of the student clubs, classes, and other groups and to sponsor directly all activities which do not come under the jurisdiction of any particular club.

So with these foundations upon which to build, a constitution was drawn up and the infant group called the Student Activities Council, came into being.

However, as is the case many times the powers needed to carry out the spirit of the endeavor were not clearly defined. So, during the Fall semester of 1948, it was agreed that a committee composed of Mario Marini, Senior Class President, Edward Lynch, a Senior Representative, Omer Contois, Junior Class President and Moderator Father Moriarty, should draft a letter stating to the Administration the fact that we could not accomplish our goal unless we had:

1. A clearer definition of our powers.

2. A sizeable sum of money with which to operate.

As has been his policy in the past, Father Lyons, our President, invited the members of the committee to meet with him. The outcome of this meeting again proved that Father Lyons is very cooperative. Our powers over the student clubs and activities were defined and a sizeable sum of money to come from the original student fee was placed at our disposal.

We now have the tools with which to work out our destiny. Among the things we wish to accomplish in the future are:

1. A systematic and logical way for a student or group of students to make known to the Administration any serious problems affecting the common good of the student body.

2. A complete reshuffling of all student clubs in order to bring about a more vital and varied program of extra-curricular activities.

3. Ultimately we hope to present a whole series of lectures which would be of vital interest to the entire student body.

We have what we consider the framework of ideal representative organization. We will never be at odds with the Administration as we are their extension in the student body while also we will always be cognizant of the students' problems as we are students.

The S.A.C. has shortcomings, but what body of fallible humans has not? But to ever, for one moment, entertain the idea that the members of the S.A.C., individually or as a group have acted for any other motives than to foster the common good of all who go to make up St. Michael's College is fallacious.

So let's all get behind our Student Activities Council with that indomitable spirit always prevalent here at St. Michael's and try to realize we are a serious minded group that is working to give the students and Administration a lasting valuable body which will strengthen the fabric of college life here on the "Hilltop."

S.A.C. Member

Question:

Which do you prefer to date, a college or non-college girl and why ???

Charles Guill Nashua, N.H.
 Being an authority on women, my preference is non-college dates because college dates show an air of artificial superiority -- "a little learning is a dangerous thing."

Don Rainville Plattsburg, N.Y.
 My preference goes to non-college girls especially Canadian because in dating them I know and understand their likes and dislikes whereas with college dates there seems to be a frigid barrier existing between both parties.

Marty Gleason
 Northampton, Mass.

I prefer to date college women especially those who have taken a course in "Adolescent Psychology," they seem to understand my case so well, too.

Rob Sauer Springfield, Mass.

I like them all, just so long as they aren't as smart as I am. OK girls.

Dick Spillane
 Staten Island, N.Y.

I prefer to date non-college girls because, not being grounded in the principles of Philosophy, they are not so apt to give metaphysical kisses and epistemological hugs.

Dave Gannon Clinton, Mass.

Not having experience on the subject of college girls, like most of my fellow Michaelmen, the beautiful and non-educated are my choice.

Bob Gaul Pittsfield, Mass.

In either league my batting average is very low but am still hitting a 1.000 with the "club 24" nine.

Dick Fitzgerald
 Schenectady, N.Y.

I seem to feel more at home with the non-college girl and the conversation doesn't always tend towards schoolwork and the like or breathe an air of sophistication which the college girl possesses.

"St. Michael's College of Winooski, Vt., lost a basketball game to Boston College at the Arena Saturday night but it won the admiration of the Greater Boston fans by the enthusiasm of its followers. No more loyal delegation has been seen or heard at the Garden or Arena this winter than the 450 students and five busloads of townsfolk that gave their team more support than our bigger institutions of learning have been getting." ... Bob Dunbar, Boston Herald, Feb. 28, 1949.

Hub happenings from the home of the Bean and the Cod, -- or a recap of the Boston trip.

Last Saturday a group of staunch Michaelmen, some of them globe trotters of renown and others, like Forrest Houelle, leaving Vermont for the first time, settled back in their seats and, as Frank Good would put it, "Headed for Civilization." It wasn't long before the hills and highways were echoing with song and cries of "We may not be handsome, but we're ALL RIGHT." In White River Junction, where we stopped for lunch, Fr. Moriarty's latest movie, Boston Blackie and the Chinese Mystery, was featured at the local theatre. At 4:30, an hour and a half late for Bill O'Hearn's date, we arrived at the Lenox, where we were assigned rooms under the guidance of "Chip" Verraneau and Joe Giambrone. Not long after our stomachs began to growl for food and many of us headed for the nearest Waldorf Cafe. Those with money or dates, like Bob Sauer and Jack Shields, were seen in more expensive places like the China House. Following the game there was the usual round of parties; the Lenox and Statler for the stags, Fox and Hounds for Jerry Shea and Audrey Turner and the Hotel Beaconsfield's Hunt Room for Bill O'Hearn and Joan Kenney ---- Bill really had a good time over the week-end. Over at the Statler many notable Michaelmen were on hand for a party thrown by Sarge Salmon and other ex-Michaelmen who are now at E.C. Law School. Sunday found the Ice Follies and sack duty holding the center of attraction till it was time to leave at 5:30. The return trip, much less eventful than the trip down, was highlighted by the fine voice of WJOY's Jack Barry and a return to form by Ray Avenia ---- Almost like Switzerland, huh Ray? ---- The Michaelmen invasion of Muncy's (Essex Junction) is still on. --- Guess what? Buck McMahon went home again, gee, Buck I wish I could go home every week-end... "I shall now illustrate what I have in mind," said the professor as he erased the board .. Paul Heinig not on speaking terms with Larry "Crash" Nuccio, since Larry made Paul join the "pedestrians club" -- Cash basis - no refunds.

Bill Heenehan making like a matinee idol at Barre -- Bob "Carnation" Sauer using position for other than K & K purposes -- if planning to spend a few days in Barre, contact "Carnation" -- Quote, Dave Gannon, Larry Ryan, and Jack Orie, "A thousand guys in the school and I had to get you for a roommate." -- Red Dunn gets a bang out of Sciarrino's cigarettes, they're loaded ... Jim (Second Semester Senior) Corcoran looking for men able to handle firearms, good pay and short hours. Mr. Corcoran was formerly associated with the Spfld. Railway Mail. --- See where "TEX" Conway had a little Birthday Ball last Saturday nite. --- Rumor has it that Jim Whitlock just can't wait to don the moleskins again, he really loves that contact work, can't get enough of it, in fact his roommate "LOVER" Brennan can show you a few dented walls to prove it --- "EASY ED" O'Connor spent a quiet weekend, seems they cancelled his membership at the V.F.W. --- where to after 12 P.M. now "Oke?" ... The big question off campus is, "Who is the father of the Austin born to "Lucky Teeter" Shaw's Buick on that Boston trip --- Who stole two back issues of "Nick the Greek's" Collection of The Michaelman? ... How do you do those card tricks, Nick? Our Hilltoppers reporter, Tony Cauley, was seen visiting his old hangout in Boston.

--- They tell us that Lem Lloyd was yelling "HERESY" as the result of a little Educational Psychology on the part of Fr. McIsaac ----

Tony Cauley

Here it is a week after the Boston trip, but the memories of a good trip and a good time are still with us. Despite the fact that we lost to Boston College, everyone, this column has talked to, with a few exceptions of course, reported having a wonderful weekend. The trip itself was very well handled by those in charge, and it might be said that everything went off like clockwork.

The Knights were about due for a letdown, and it is hoped that they got it all out of their system last Saturday night. After all they had won seven straight, and so even the law of averages was against them. The boys were on a strange court, plus the fact that it wasn't the friendly Auditorium they were in, gave all the advantages to Boston College.

However, if the Knights had been hitting like they did against St. Anselm's, it would no doubt have been a different story. But everyone wearing Purple seemed to have trouble getting started, and just about the time they did, the ball game was over. However, everything will be forgiven if we can down the Catamounts from across the river next Monday night.

This column had a sneaky feeling about that B.C. game, as we reported in last week's paper. The Eagles are nobodiee pushover, and what's more, they play an awful lot stronger teams than we do. Holy Cross had trouble with them, and even in defeat a team learns quite a bit in matching hoops with outfits like the Crusaders.

Speaking of Holy Cross, this column stayed for their entire game with Boston University, although towards the end of it, very few Michaelmen were in sight. Much has been heard by these big ears about Bob Cousey and company, and we wanted to see if it was all true. Well it is, and then you can add a little.

Funny thing though, everytime Cousey made a move, we thought of Larry Killick, who needs no introduction up in these parts. Cousey is fancier looking than Killick on the floor, but when we make that statement, we are taking in the defense too. Cousey is an ace defense-man, much better than Larry ever was, but as far as ball-handling is concerned, we think it's a toss-up. Another thing is Cousey has four other men on the floor that are almost equally as good as he is, while Killick was more or less a one-man team. It would have been nice to see what Vermont's Larry could have done on the same floor with Forman, Mullaney and a few more like them.

Most of us didn't hear of the death of our two fellow students until we returned Sunday night. So while we all thought we were having a good time, the weekend on the whole was one of tragedy. It was indeed a terrible shock, and speaking as one who has lost two good friends, I wish to extend my deepest sympathy to the families of both Paul and Neil.

OH 2, Off Campus 1
Tied in 4th Round

Still rolling along on the top of the herd in the St. Michael's intramural loop after four rounds of play, are the teams from Old Hall second floor and Off Campus team 1.

Old Hall 2's fourth win was copped at the expense of The Ranch by the score of 39-21, while Off Campus 1 gained theirs the easy way with a forfeit victory over Upper East Allen. In Old Hall's game, Dan McCarthy dropped in 18 points for the winners and is now on top in the league scoring leadership with 44 markers in three games. Dan McKenna of St. John's B also has 44 markers, but has played in one more game.

In some more of the last rounds games St. James A toppled Off-Campus 3, 32-27, with Charley Hanley getting 10 points; Wojo House scored its third win, routing St. William's 49-18, with Marty Conley leading the victors with 12 points. In the low score of the week St. Patrick's edged out Old Hall '4', 19-15. Old Hall '3' defeated Essex Junction 36-22 as Tom Meaney collected 11 tallies for the third floor. Aquinas Hall administered St. James Bits third loss 42-32 as Rivard chipped in 18 digits for the winners.

Among the leaders in the scoring leadership are the previously mentioned McCarthy and McKenna, plus MacDonald of Old Hall '2', Rivard and Toomey of Aquinas, Ronnie Russell of St. Leo's, Ted Ziter of Off-Campus '1' and Don Naples of St. Patrick's.

Knights Entertain
Catamounts Mon.

by BOB FLANAGAN

The Knights end their season against UVM this Monday but despite all the reams of newspaper print which will be used in description, there is not going to be another civil war, Boston Massacre or Pearl Harbor.

What will take place will be an athletic contest between two neighboring educational institutions.

Obviously St. Michael's would like to win it. Most Michaelmen are getting just a little tired of the attitude over at the University. Vermont students seem to alternate between cry babying over their loss last fall and what is worse adopting a condescending "big brother" attitude. Besides, as UVM is so ready to point out, the Cats haven't lost a Conference game in 26 starts. That means it's just about time they did.

On the other hand, it's doubtful whether the new Science Hall would crumble into dust if the Knights should happen to lose Monday. By the same token the pillars in front of the Waterman building would probably be able to stand the shock if the Knights hand the Catamounts that long awaited defeat. They (the pillars) managed to pull through last September.

As a matter of fact Monday's game will be neither a bloody feud nor a last ditch grudge battle. It is only, as the saying goes, a game.

As for the game, the odds should be fairly even. Vermont will be playing this week minus their second highest scorer Keith Galli who is ineligible because of marks. Galli had 160 points, second only to Kotlarczyk's 174. Galli will probably be replaced by Art Collier who played such an amazing game against St. Michael's two months ago.

The still undefeated Squires will meet the Vermont Kittens in the prelim scheduled for 7:30. This will also be the Squires last game.

EAGLES CAN CROW,
BC BEATS KNIGHTS

A veteran Boston College quintet, led by Mort Stagoff and Tom Deegan, pinned a 44-36 loss on the Purple Knights last Saturday night at the Arena in Boston. The loss was the Knights sixth of the season in seventeen games and their first after seven straight wins.

George Kruse started the scoring with a two pointer but B.C. followed with two quick hoops and the Eagles were in front to stay. St. Michael's shooting was plainly off as they managed to cage only 17 percent of their shots compared to their usual 33 percent average. The Knights pulled within three points just before the end of the first half but two nice set shots by Stagoff quelled any thoughts the Mikemen had about catching the Eagles and they left the floor at half time leading 25-17.

The second half was even with each team tallying 19 points in the final 20 minutes. Again it was Stagoff who pulled the Eagles over the rough spots as he caged a set shot whenever the going got tough.

For the Purple cagers Big Teddy Burzenski took scoring honors with 10 points but he had to take a back seat for game honors to Stagoff and Deegan. Stagoff pumped 15 markers through the hoop while Deegan, a talented hook shot artist, had 11 points.

In the second half of the Collegiate doubleheader Holy Cross beat a stubborn Boston University quintet 64 to 54. Bob Cousy and Matt Forman led the Crusaders in the scoring column with 20 points apiece.

Mary Runs Office For Father Lyons

by DAN TARPEY

"Duz does everything," and this phrase can also be applied to the name of Miss Mary Gill, secretary to the president at St. Michael's, who gives her best to everything she undertakes, and finds happiness in the accomplishments of worthwhile things.

Possessed with the qualities of personality and capability, Miss Gill has proved herself indispensable as a secretary to Fr. Lyons.

Quiet, refined, and reserved, Mary is seldom seen around the campus, and exemplifies the saying, "In silence lies real contentment."

Miss Gill graduated with honors from Cathedral High, and was known at Cathedral as the "Quiz Kid."

Because of her literary ability, and her leadership in school activities she gained many honors during her school career.

After graduation, Miss Gill assumed the duties as chief clerk in the Winooski OPA office, under the supervision of Fr. Lyons as chairman. Her next duties transferred her to Washington, D.C., where she was employed on the secretarial staff of Senator Warren Austin, present U.N. ambassador. Miss Gill's knowledge of government and civic affairs made her a vital factor in that position, and she was able to help the senator with more and more details.

Remembering her extreme competency as a chief clerk in OPA, Fr. Lyons summoned her to St. Michael's as his secretary. It is in this capacity, that Miss Gill merits the words vim, vigor, and vitality for her work in correspondence pertaining to the college, and the way in which she manages all the engagements and appointments of Fr. Lyons.

BROTHER IS ALUMNUS

Ever since her brother, William was a student at St. Michael's, Miss Gill has been a true supporter of all the activities concerned with the college. She proudly boasts that she has attended every home game, and can ring out the cheers as good as anyone.

Her favorite outdoor sports include badminton, tennis, golf, and baseball and she speaks of them as being invigorating even on the hottest days. When asked who would win the American and National League pennants this year, she firmly answered, "why the Red Sox and Braves respectively."

The "Knights" are directed by trombonist Bill Wannemacher.

Wannemacher has written his own arrangements of "Body and Soul," "I Wish I Knew," and "Star Dust" which features John Labracke the leading trumpet.

Another feature of the orchestra is its "hot" rendition of "Get Ready, Set, Jump" with Bill Cofrances and Tony LeSauter. Baritone sax lovers should appreciate Vern Washburn in "Once In Love With Amy."

The "Knights" personnel includes: Bernie Snyle, Marcel Giroux, Bill Cofrances, Lou Bernard, Vern Washburn, John Labracke, Tony LeSauter, Nelson Brouillette, Bill Wannemacher, Bernie Leclerc, Bud Murray, Bud Snyder, and Stillman Millington.

The following schedule will be in effect during Lent:

Daily Mass

7:30

8:00

Daily Confessions:

During the 7:00 Mass

During the 7:30 Mass

After the Evening Devotions

Daily Evening Devotions

5:45

Weekly Benediction

Tuesday Evening at 5:45

Weekly Stations of the Cross

Friday Evening at 5:45

The only variation will occur if a Feastday falls on Friday. In that case the Stations of the Cross will be celebrated on Tuesday Evening of the same week at 5:45.

As Lent begins, most students plan to abstain from this and that luxury for the duration of the Season.

However, students are also urged to be active in participation at the Lenten Devotions.

The importance of the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass, alone, is unparalleled during this particular Lenten Season because of the trial and uncertainty rampant in the world.

Tony And Max Run House Of Mystery

by GEORGE BRESNAHAN

Two Canadian Michaelmen, Tony LeSauter and Max Roy from Trois Rivieres, P.Q., are proprietors of St. Michael's own house of mystery, a house which includes among other things, a pulley controlled radio plus earphones, an alarm clock which insures reveille because it switches on a record, an automatic heat shut off, a wire recorder, a collapsible book rack and finally, anaesthetic touch, art to decorate the walls. The mastermind behind these activities is Tony with Max always ready to lend a helping hand.

The radio can be tuned in without leaving the bed on the opposite side of the room. Pulleys are attached to each knob so that station changes can be made as desired. Naturally Radio Canada gets first preference. The earphones are used by one of the boys in case the other wishes to study, or, attention Fr. Paulin, to listen in after lights out.

Students whose jangled nerves can't stand a shrill alarm early in the morning, can get the scientific angles from Tony, who attached a tube containing mercury to his clock. At seventy-three the mercury tube tilts, turning on the phonograph and the soothing strains of his favorite record.

The book rack is one that can be readied for easy shipment by merely pulling out the wooden pegs. There are no nails used.

The wire recorder is handled by Max. It is used to transcribe the songs practiced by St. Michael's new orchestra, so that the musicians can easily recognize their errors.

Lest their surroundings model their minds after the mechanistic mode of the age, beauty is added to the room by the masterful pencil etchings of Tony's brother, Claude LeSauter, an art major in his junior year at Laval in Quebec.

During their spare time, these modern young Thomas Edisons, study and keep up correspondence in French and English with members of the fair sex in foreign schools and universities. Tony won't give out the addresses, but some of the queens, and their pictures prove their beauty, are Elena Lopez of Spain, Janine Thurisay of France, Yelva Rampay of Haiti, Aurora Hagedorn of the Philippines, and his lady love from Canada, Gesile Beliveau.

TO PAUL

Strange that it should be so quiet here on our campus - cold and quiet. Unbelievable too, that I have lost a friend - a friend to all of us.

Shall we mourn and share in the grief of his kin? There was much happiness in him, too much for us to grieve. But when the ice is on the pond and the air cold and crisp again - we won't forget Paul and his skates.

Ambition, confidence, and initiative were among his possessions.

Task-master, that Paul! Engineer, painter, salesman, transactions of every sort, and Paul was always number one. If words failed, the winsome smile turned the toughest of situations in favor of the curly-head.

Law school was his choice, but those of us who knew, realized that he needed no further training - to us he was already a lawyer and diplomat of note.

We toyed and toiled together over many ideas, many schemes, they were all handled deftly, sharply, but the touch that made them successful was his.

The know-how, the ability to get there was reminiscent of a small boy that had just won a bag of marbles and was headed for his next.

But now, although sunlight will shine through the same window in the same classroom on Paul's chair, he won't be there to complain or to enjoy it. We won't grieve when it does, nor will we forget.

NFCCS Talent Show Tops Student Relief Week

The St. Michael's Chapter of the National Federation of Catholic College Students has formulated plans for a Student Relief Week to be held the week of March 13th.

The purpose of this week will be to ease the needs of the students in foreign countries. These students who are striving for an education just as students in America are met with many difficulties.

It is the aim of the N.F.C.C.S. to ease the hardships of these students by gifts of food, money, and clothes. The N.F.C.C.S. members at St. Michael's in order to aid the National Council have designated the week of March 13th as Student Relief Week.

Gus Contant of Newport, R.I., a Junior Class member of NFCCS has been appointed chairman of Student Relief Week. Under his direction plans have been formulated for the whole week. Chairman Contant has decided upon a paper collection as the best way of raising money for Student Relief. Consequently a paper drive will take place in Burlington, Winooski, and Essex Junction during the week.

While the Paper Campaign will be of prime importance, the highlight of the week as far as the campus is concerned will be the mammoth talent show which will be held in Austin Hall on Thursday evening, March 10th, at 8:30. The show itself is under the direction of Jack Dobbey and is rapidly being whipped into shape. Theme of the show will be that of the Arthur Godfrey Talent Show.

This means that there will have to be talent scouts who will discover and present their talent on the show. The contestants will then compete before the audience for the three prizes which are to be offered.

There is a very strong possibility that a grand prize may be offered but Chairman Dobbey has surrounded this with an air of secrecy.

There seems to be a pervading air of secrecy throughout the whole show as Chairman Dobbey also refuses to divulge the name of his MC who he promises will be the counterpart of Arthur Godfrey. Some of the more ambitious talent scouts are already at work at Trinity, Fanny Allen, and on the immediate campus. Their job will be to find the talent. Chairman Dobbey states that he knows that there is plenty of talent around and that he expects to see all of it on Sunday afternoon, March 6th, at 2:30 in Austin Hall when auditions will be held.

As a feature of this talent night the Pen and Mike Club which is composed of students from St. Michael's, Trinity, and the Newman Club of the University of Vermont will present a dramatic show which will be aired directly from Austin Hall over WJOY. This play will present the needs of the foreign students in these modern times.

Fr. Lyons will deliver a short address on a timely subject as a feature of this program. The whole night promises to be one of extreme enjoyment and one which shouldn't be missed.
